Your venue

The perfect setting

Not many couples can say they got married in a riverside Palace in the heart of London. Surrounded by 1,300 years of history, Fulham Palace has been known as not only a place of refuge, but a place for celebration and banqueting. The perfect setting for the most special day of your lives.

Venue hire also includes:

- Your own dedicated wedding planner;
- Access to the venue by appointment for your very own personal tour;
- Access to our 'little white book' of most loved London wedding suppliers;
- Professional event managers to ensure the smooth running of your wedding day;
- Our undivided attention, guaranteed.

This Hall with the adjoining parlour was erected by Bishop Fitzjames in the reign of Henry VI on the site of buildings of the old Palace as marked as the "Conquest". It was used as the Hall by Bishop Bonner and Bishop Ridley during the struggles of the Reformation and retained its original proportions till it was altered by Bishop Sherlock in the reign of George II. Bishop Howley in the reign of George IV changed it into a private unconsecrated chapel. It is now restored to its original purpose on the erection by Bishop Fall of a new chapel of more suitable dimensions.
